DETAILED ACTION

1. Formal Matters

- A. The Amendment filed 12/19/06 has been entered into the record.
- B. Claims 194-235 were pending. Claims 207 and 208 have been canceled and new claims 236-254 have been added. Therefore, claims 194-206 and 209-264 are pending and are the subject of this Office Action.
- C. All Statutes under 35 USC not found in this Office Action can be found, cited in full, in a previous Office Action.

2. Oath

- A. The objection to the Oath has been withdrawn in view of Applicants' arguments.

3. Specification

- A. All objections to the specification have been withdrawn in view of Applicants' amendments except for the following – Though Applicants have pointed out that Figure 3C does appear in the Brief Description, the beginning of the Description must refer to Figure 3C (e.g. "Figures 3A-3C contain...")
- B. Figure 1 is objected to since it recites "rate" instead of "rat."
- C. Figure 1 is further objected to since the names of all the T1Rs are not legible. This is especially important since various claims refer to this Figure.

4. Election by Original Presentation

- A. Newly submitted claims 237 and 239-250 are directed to an invention that is independent or distinct from the invention originally claimed for the following reasons: the new claims are drawn to cells (class 435, subclasses 69.1 and 325) whereas the original claims are drawn to methods (435/7.1).

Since applicant has received an action on the merits for the originally presented invention, this invention has been constructively elected by original presentation for prosecution on the merits. However, claim 237 and 239-250 WILL NOT BE WITHDRAWN FROM CONSIDERATION as being directed to a non-elected invention since it is believed these claims were written incorrectly and should likely be drawn to “A method of producing...wherein the receptor is expressed in a cell...” It is noted that reciting “the cell” will have no antecedent basis.

The Examiner will wait for Applicants’ response before restricting these claims. See 37 CFR 1.142(b) and MPEP § 821.03.

5. Claim Objections

A. The objection to claims 199-204 and 210-215 “exhibits” and “possesses” has been withdrawn in view of Applicants’ arguments that these terms are clear.

B. The objection to claims 210-215 has been withdrawn in view of Applicants’ amendment to the term “Sequence.”

6. Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112, first paragraph – scope of enablement

A. Claims 194-206 and 209-235 remain rejected and new claims 236-264 are also rejected under 35 USC 112, first paragraph, for the reasons already of record on pages 3-4 of the Office Action mailed 9/21/06. Applicants have amended the claims to further limit the claimed genus. However, the genus of T1R3 receptors is still excessive with regard to claims 194, 207 and 217. These claims encompass the genus of receptors which hybridize under specific conditions to known receptors. Applicants recite in their claims that T1R2 and T1R3 receptors from 3 different species have been disclosed. However, due to the poor reproduction quality of Figure 1, which discloses the supposed receptors, the Examiner cannot identify three T1R2 and T1R3 receptors. Therefore, it appears Applicants have only provided guidance and working examples of one T1R2 (human) and two T1R3 (rat and human) receptors and nucleic acids. Therefore, undue experimentation would be required for the artisan to make and use the invention as claimed.

In addition, claim 237 recites that the receptors are “derived from” the same species. Again, the breadth of the claims is excessive with regard to claiming all T1R2/T1R3 receptors which are “derived from” a particular animal species. Applicants have only identified one T1R2 sequence and two T1R3 sequences. Derivatives would have one or more amino acid substitutions, deletions, insertions and/or additions to the claimed proteins.

Art Unit: 1647

The Examiner may withdraw this rejection with regard to the genus of T1R3 receptors if Applicants can demonstrate that this genus was well known at the time of the present invention (i.e. more than two known receptors).

7. Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112, first paragraph – written description

A. Claims 194-206 and 209-235 remain rejected and new claims 236-264 are also rejected under 35 USC 112, first paragraph, for the reasons already of record on pages 4-5 of the Office Action mailed 9/21/06. Applicants have amended the claims to further limit the claimed genus. These claims encompass the genus of receptors which hybridize under specific conditions to known receptors. However, the genus of T1R2 and T1R3 receptors is still not described.

Applicants recite in their claims that T1R2 and T1R3 receptors from 3 different species have been disclosed. However, due to the poor reproduction quality of Figure 1, which discloses the supposed receptors, the Examiner cannot identify three T1R2 and T1R3 receptors. Therefore, it appears Applicants have only adequately described one T1R2 (human) and two T1R3 (rat and human) receptors and nucleic acids and not the genus.

In addition, claim 237 recites that the receptors are “derived from” the same species. Again, genus of all T1R2/T1R3 receptors which are “derived from” a particular animal species is not well described. Applicants have only identified one T1R2 sequence and two T1R3 sequences. Derivatives would have one or more amino acid substitutions, deletions, insertions and/or additions to the claimed proteins.

The Examiner may withdraw this rejection with regard to the genus of T1R2 and T1R3 receptors if Applicants can demonstrate that this genus was adequately described at the time of the present invention (i.e. more than two known receptors).

8. Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112, first paragraph – new matter

A. Claims 194-206 and 209-264 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Applicants have added hybridization conditions into at least claims 194, 206 and 218 and state that support for these conditions can be found throughout the specification. However, upon reviewing the large specification, the Examiner was unable to find any disclosure of the exact conditions newly added to the claims.

9. Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112, second paragraph

A. All rejections under 35 USC 112, second paragraph, have been withdrawn in view of Applicants' amendments to, or cancellation of, the claims.

B. Claims 237 and 239-250 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The claims recite "the cell" in the preamble. However, the originally elected claims are drawn to methods. It is believed that these claims should recite "the method of claim ____ wherein the cell..."

C. Claims 237 and 239-250 recite the limitation "the cell." There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in these claims. It is believed that these claims should depend from claim 231.

10. Double Patenting

A. Claims 194-206 and 209-235 remain rejected and new claims 236-264 remain rejected for the reasons already of record on pages 6-7 of the Office Action 9/21/06. Applicants ask that this rejection be held in abeyance until the application is allowable.

11. Conclusion

A. No claim is allowable.

Art Unit: 1647

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
